

Football Bee Begins to Buzz; Flanigan on Job

Grid Boss Out Again

By Bruce Copeland.

The first official act of Walter M. Flanigan since his return from the East was to appear at the first meeting of the Rock Island football fans, which was held at the hotel here last night. Flanigan was in good luck, for he was able to get into the game, and was able to see the game from the best position possible.

Flanigan has been very ill and, according to his physicians, it was his indomitable will and recuperative powers that finally restored him to slowly improving health. He took a flyer down town yesterday, but lingered at his old home only a short time, still weak and was from the attack that laid him low.

Charles his still weakened condition, Flanigan knows that Rock Island football fans are clamoring for news of a bigger and better football machine than the one that represented the city last fall at Douglas park. Flanigan himself had begun to chafe to get into action and start the ball rolling for another spectacular season on the professional gridiron.

Sir Walter wants the fans to know that it is going to be a difficult matter this year to organize such a formidable aggregation that almost brought the world's championship to Rock Island last year. The independents did much to increase the popularity of the fall sport last season, with the result that practically all the leading industrial plants of the mid-west are organizing the best football teams that money can afford.

Raiders' On Players.
Chief among the new entrants in the coming pro football derby will be the Staleys of Decatur and the Walworths of Kewanee. These plants have been raiding the college ranks of every available player by offering them far greater inducements than have ever been projected. There seems to be no end to getting the best players in the country to line up for the season. Money has been no object whatever in the hectic desire to build up a championship football team.

Several of last year's independents have already been approached by the Staleys and other grasping managers, and Flanigan believes that it will be hard to bring some of them back to Rock Island. However, Sir Walter wants every football fan in the tri-cities to know that he will bend every effort to keep the old champs intact.

Brands False Rumors.
Rumors that the Rock Island management has signed several new stars for this season's outfit were spread when Flanigan explained that he had had several such luminaries in view, but that, during his illness they slipped away and joined other teams with the ready cash to allure them. Wait a planning all his faith on the return of Rube Ussell, Chicken, Norak Marshall, Henry Fitzgerald, Wyland, and such local stars as Jerry Mansfield, Pat Smith, Paddy Quinn and Robb. Wait Buland and Ois Smith have been in Rock Island for some time and are ready to begin when the first call is issued.

Flanigan explained that the increased railroad rates will cut deep into the local exchequer this year, and for that reason an effort will be made to eliminate week-end and railroad fares by rounding together a team that will make its daily abode in Rock Island. Wait says he could organize a mediocre team in five minutes with the available non-players on hand, but in order to maintain last year's high standard, he is determined to put a team into the field that will set the whole football world agog.

Announcements concerning the personnel of the new independents were promised by Flanigan by the first of next week. He is getting stronger each day and by that time he hopes to be able to devote his full time to the team and the schedule.

MORE THAN TON OF BRAWN TO TUG FOR R. & V. LABOR DAY
There will be more than a ton of brawn on the R. & V. end of the rope in the tug-of-war events of Labor day in East Moline. Chief Otto Haller of the factory police service has organized a tug-of-war team which he is confident will carry off all honors next Monday. The 10 men average better than 200 pounds in weight.

The factory heavyweights are practicing every noon and some very interesting contests have been developed. The regulars have been able so far to out-pull any pickup competition.

Those who compose the team are: L. M. Rasmussen, Jacob Van Vleet, H. W. Davis, C. Smith, S. H. Sprague, Fred Nelson, M. Manany, R. F. Lavine, R. Murdoch, A. James.

WISCONSINITES TO GET A PEEP AT LOCAL PUGS

Bloomington, Wis., Gets Good Card for September 9.

Four tri-city fighters are booked to appear at Bloomington, Wis., Thursday, Sept. 9, for a boxing program that bids fair to be one of the best fight cards ever staged in that section of the country.

Fighting Brondell, of Davenport, will mix mitts with Kid Rapina, of Rock Island, for the main bout of 10, three-minute rounds. This should prove to be a regular scrap as both Brondell and Rapina are fighters of no mean ability.

Timothy vs. Murphy.
Buck Timothy of Davenport, will meet Jimmy Murphy of Dubuque in the semi-windup of eight rounds. Murphy is expected to be given about the fastest fight he has ever had in his career. Timothy has some record and holds the featherweight championship of the Twenty-seventh U. S. Infantry and the same belt in the twenty-sixth division of the A. E. F.

A real champion scrap preliminary of six rounds will be put on between Kid Britt of Madison, Wis., and Battling Morgan of Rock Island. Both of these boys are bantamweights and fast fighters. Britt has met some of the best men in that division around Milwaukee and other Wisconsin towns. He is credited with nine wins, seven knockouts, one decision and only four defeats out of 21 fights with men like Battling Nelson, Young Sharkey and Gene McGovern.

An "eight-ball" fight between two "cullud pussions" will be put on for the grand finale. They are to fight from the end of the main bout on. Present indications point to a real scrap between the two negroes and chances are that this bout will provide more thrills than the main bout between Brondell and Rapina.

DEMPSEY OUT TO WIN EARLY, MANAGER SAYS

Miske Due to Go Way of Others, Is Jack Kearns' Favorite for Labor Day Clash.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—(United Press).—Benton Harbor's population, if taken today by the census bureau, would rank the place high among the lesser cities of the country. The city has swollen with the addition of hundreds of fight fans, the first large arrivals of those who will see Champion Jack Dempsey in the first defense of his crown here Monday.

With the fans preparing for their part in the game set for Labor Day, the two fighters, Dempsey and his challenger, Billy Miske, were near the peak of their form. Both put in hard sessions yesterday, probably their last chance to extend themselves. It was expected the workouts today would be for nothing more than a loosening of the muscles.

Both fighters emerged from the training period with no serious hurts. Both Miske and Dempsey have been hard on sparring partners, but that was expected. It was evident today there would be no decision should the fight go 10 rounds. Dempsey remained a heavy favorite to win, and even in Miske's camp there appeared no real belief that the challenger can put the champion out. A good showing against Dempsey would be a moral victory for Miske, and a 10-round draw would be reason for wild celebration by his friends.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—Billy Miske's fight with Jack Dempsey, scheduled here Monday, Sept. 6, will find the St. Paul heavyweight primed for his greatest effort.

It will be a different Miske that Dempsey faces this time—a more powerful, experienced fighter in every way, and ringsters here witnessed the St. Paul contest of 10 rounds and the Philadelphia set-to of six between the pair, are giving Miske a good chance to win the title.

A New Miske.
When Miske fought Dempsey back in 1918 his weight was 180 pounds. He was not in shape for either bout, yet managed to stay the limit—something which few fighters have been able to do with the Utah man. Today's new Miske weighs 193½ pounds, and this after he has trained faithfully for nearly six months.

"Going to Win"—Miske.
"I haven't an ounce of superfluous weight on me now," says Miske. "I am punching harder and straighter than ever before. My condition enables me to continue speedily from round to round. Where I was outwinded, and with the new strength I will have at my command this time, plus the experience I have gained since, I am sure I have the stuff to bring the world's championship back to St. Paul."

Champ Out to Win Early.
Dempsey, the champion, isn't saying much. Jack believes in working hard at all times, and those who have seen him go through his paces are confident in the belief he will be in his best shape for Miske. "What he is about Miske that makes him hard for Jack to fight is something that I cannot understand," says Manager Jack Kearns. "Of course he'll be in shape—better than he was when he fought him before. We expect to win, but it's beyond me to figure out just when he will be able to take the match with Dempsey. He should have taken them, for he won't be the same card after the Labor day bout that he would have been otherwise."

Bouts After Labor Day.
"We have bouts in sight that will pay Dempsey the biggest money a heavyweight champion has ever drawn. We'll take on Bill Brennan next, then Georges Carpentier if the Frenchman wants the bout. All we ask is a suitable purse. Dempsey is always in shape and we won't require more than three weeks' training at any time."

It has been intimated that Dempsey is keenly appreciative of the chance that will be his in the Labor day fight. There are anxious fans in his record that he is anxious to remove, and he has made the statement that he'll be out to win in one punch if the trick can be accomplished.

Statistics on Both.
Statistics on the contenders, just released by Managers Kearns and Reddy, the latter Miske's pilot, give fans an adequate idea of the even match, in the matter of height, weight and reach of the two heavyweights.

Miske is now three and one-half pounds heavier than Dempsey, or nearly 14 pounds heavier than when he boxed him in 1918. The champion has the edge in the matter of age, but it is only a slight one. Dempsey is 25 years old and Miske 26.

With the prices of food fixed by the mayor to prevent restaurant and hotel proprietors from profiteering on the fans who will come for the big event, three regular trains and many special trains will leave Chicago at 9:30 and 10 a. m. for Benton Harbor which will wait for the crowds to take them back to their homes. Benton Harbor is well equipped to handle the thousands who will jam their way into Promoter Fitzsimmons' arena.

Room for Everyone.
Ticket prices, which have been set at $30, $20, $10 and $5, plus the war tax of 10 per cent, have proved popular with fans, and mail order reservations to date, in number of tickets at least, are running an even race with the demand felt for reservations at Toledo last year when Dempsey was training for his successful fight against Jess Willard. Promoter Fitzsimmons, although expecting a capacity crowd, states that there will be room for everyone. His arena will seat 20,000 persons with accommodations for 6,000 more in "standing room" if necessary.

Newspaper men from all the larger cities are here to report the fight. The first three rows have been reserved for them.

Girl's Pluck Wins Ticket to Dempsey-Miske Bout

Lola Wallin of Rockford, Ill., thanking Jack Dempsey for giving her a $30 ticket to see him fight Billy Miske on Labor day.

BY DEAN SNYDER.
Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—When Jack Dempsey defends his title here on Labor day against Billy Miske there will be a blond-haired young girl at the ringside pulling for him to win.

She is Miss Lola Wallin, a 15-year-old high school girl of Rockford, Ill.

Lola came to Benton Harbor to see the champion fight. She thought that tickets to a championship match wouldn't cost any more than just going to a movie.

When she found out that fight tickets were selling at from $5.50 to $30 each she nearly had heart failure. Did she go back home? She did not.

Lola went to work at an ice cream parlor in order to make up the deficit between what she had imagined a fight ticket cost and the grim reality.

One night Dempsey and Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons wandered into the place to cool off a bit and forget about fighting and the business that goes along with it.

The girl recognized Dempsey from the pictures she had seen of him. She set two heaped-up dishes of cream before the champion and the promoter. That made a big hit with the world's champion.

"How'd you like to see me fight," asked Jack.

Then she told her story. That also made a hit with Jack. He not only gave her a $30 ticket to the fight, but told her to quit work and enjoy herself while she is in Benton Harbor.

In the minds of most people Jack Dempsey is just a big burly fellow who can punch harder than any other living man.

Only close friends of the world's heavyweight champion know, perhaps, that he also has a big heart and never misses an opportunity to do a kind act.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 1.—The Plowboys made it two out of three from Terre Haute here today, taking the third game, 2 to 1. After the first two innings it was a pitcher's battle between Keenan and Beck. Two doubles and a single enabled the Mackmen to count two runs in the first inning, while a triple scoring Krehmeyer from first in the second inning was the only score made by the locals. Ruth Cuts Own Stick

While Babe Ruth was out on a movie location the other day he came across a willow sapling that looked good to him. He promptly borrowed a hatchet from the property clerk, cut down said sapling, trimmed it up and sent it to the factory to be made into a "Babe Ruth" model bludgeon.

Colonels Huston and Ruppert aren't overly enthused over the home-run king's moving picture ambitions while the Yanks are in the thick of the fight for the pennant. Since Babe's picture work started he hasn't been clipping out his usual quota of garden wall socks.

Then along came a skeeter or some insect of the timber wilds and lunched on one of Bambino's valuable wrists. His arm had to be lanced and he's out of the game temporarily.

The colonels claim that it's Ruth's job to hit the Yanks into a pennant and not to make celluloid dummies.

The title of Ruth's movie thriller is "Headin' Home." Huston and Ruppert would rather see the Babe "Headin' Home" from third than in the pictures.

THE SCOREBOARD
YESTERDAY'S HERO.—The state of Ohio. Not content with having both the presidential candidates, Ohio now has first place in both major leagues. Cincinnati leads the Nationals and Cleveland the Americans.

THE REDS held on by their finger tips, trimming the Braves, 6 to 3, after rain had interfered. Braves threatened in the eighth but Luque, relieving Fisher, got the six men who faced him.

GARDNER and Speaker led the slugger Indians to the top at the expense of the Senators, 9 to 5. RED SOX took the jinx off Dicky Kerr and finished the series with the White Sox with a 6 to 2 victory.

PING BODY produced the swat necessary for the Yankees to trim the Browns, 2 to 0. Mays allowed but four scattered hits.

NICHOLSON'S single scoring two Pirates accounted for a 4 to 3 win over the Giants.

(Special to The Argus).
Evansville, Ind., Sept. 2.—In a game featured by sensational pitching, opportune batting and brilliant fielding, Evansville drew nearer the league-leading Bloomers yesterday by taking the Islanders into camp, 3-2.

Cy Warmouth's pitching for the Evans was a revelation. He allowed the Islanders only six hits and struck out 11. Cy was especially strong in the pinches, the Islanders having 10 runners left on bases.

George in Hard Luck.
Opposed to Warmouth was George McQuillan, Islander ace and next year's manager. George had nothing to complain about in the fielding line, but Warmouth's effectiveness was too much for the Islanders at the plate. It was anyone's game until the last batter had been retired.

Timely hits would have turned the tide for the Islanders at several times during the game. Purpura, McInerney, Dixon and Dennis went hitless. That about tells the story of the Islanders' defeat. An opportune blow by any one of this quartet would have won for the Islanders.

Revenge for Cy.
Yesterday's game was sort of a revenge for Cy Warmouth after his defeat by McQuillan during the last Islander-Eva series in Rock Island. It will be recalled that McQuillan pitched his first Three-Eye game against the big Eva hurler, whose wildness enabled the Islanders to win. It was also unfortunate for the big right hander at the time as Jess Tannehill, Philly scout, was looking him over from the stand.
